

Under-rated? Over-rated? Or Skill Level “Perception”?

Next time, before you make a derogatory or “smart” remark about a player’s skill level ability, stop and consider the following:

Have you or any of your players “ever” shot “exceptional”... at least once in your life?

Give the opposing player a break and keep your remarks to yourself! If you “perceive” them to be under-rated, THERE’S A PROPER WAY to voice your opinion...WRITE US A NOTE. Don’t make verbal remarks and more importantly, don’t allow your teammates to make smart remarks to the opposing players either! You have feelings and so do the players on the opposing team. Would you like to be accused of being under-rated or of “cheating”?

We’re aware that players still “try” to manipulate the system. THEY ACTUALLY HAVEN’T A CLUE about how the “system” really works.

Even though their “attempt” at sandbagging is real, the only thing they are “really” getting away with is ...the false feeling that they are getting away with something!
